

THROWCovers - Graphic Specification

RasterPrint™ HD Throw Cover

Radius RasterPrint is a dye-sublimation process that yields photographic images on fabric. With this process, the image becomes molecularly bonded to the fabric so it can be washed without harming the image. We can use the RasterPrint process with virtually any of our fabric products (and even with our Portable Products using RasterPrint Loop). Banners, backdrops, murals, Throw Covers...the possibilities are endless. In addition to using RasterPrint for photographic images, many of our clients have found it a cost effective way to print multi-colored logos on our Throw Covers or other products. Because RasterPrint has no set-up charge, you can produce your logo on a small number of units and spare yourself the multiple set-up charges of screen print. RasterPrint is Graphic Fabric™.
